

DINNERWARE BY BARB

Thank you for your interest in my miniature dinnerware creations. All of my dinnerware is designed, poured, hand painted, glazed and fired in my studio. Most of the dinnerware is painted and glazed to order.

Two pages in my color catalog show individual dinner plates depicting all of the colors and patterns of dinnerware you can choose from. Encourage your clients to be creative. They can mix any colors, or colors and patterns, to create dinnerware of their choice. Most patterns can have the color changed to accommodate your client's request.

Most of my dinnerware, accessory sets and ceramic pieces including the flower pots can be made up in any of the colors or patterns or combination of colors and patterns shown in my catalog.

Also available is very true to life, service for four, flatware in gold or silver (not precious metal). The handles are available in the standard colors pictured in my catalog. I can customize colors to coordinate with most dinnerware.

Table linen (placemats, napkins and aprons) are available in an assortment of colors and patterns. Ask me to match a dinner set with a pattern or color of fabric. I will do my best to accommodate you and your customer.

A set of four glass goblets can also coordinate with your dinnerware. The glassware can be painted with patterns to match dinnerware. Or, the rim of the glasses can be painted to coordinate with your dinnerware. A plain gold or silver rim is very attractive.

I am very excited about the packaging for my ceramic dinnerware sets. Now you can display a package of dinnerware with four place settings plus serving pieces on a pegboard. Or, if you prefer, you can remove the dinnerware from the packaging and display them on a table or in a china cabinet. My new packaging protects the dishes from chips or breakage during shipping and display.

To help customize your clients miniatures project I have designed a set of display boards showing my dinnerware and accessories with samples of colors and patterns. See my price list for pricing information. To further assist you in educating your customer a copy of my workshop "Marketing Miniature Ceramic Dinnerware" will accompany your display boards.

If you have any questions or would like to place an order please contact me. I will be happy to special order any colors or designs your customer may want.
